

Dear Sirs:

I believe it to be a tremendous mistake to limit the services available from satellite radio. This is a subscriber service with vast potential to assist people like myself, who are willing to pay for services, with information that will help in our daily lives. I plan to use satellite radio whenever possible due to my busy business schedule. I am more than happy to pay for a service instead of paying for a different service by sitting through advertisements that I don't have time for.

Please let the laws of supply and demand and free economics prevail. Don't limit the ability of innovative technologies to prosper and provide services important to subscribers.

thank you.
